

'Open' Verdict in Girl's Death

A story of the united efforts and financial support of six northern Illinois counties is back of the achievement of Camp Lowden, the Blackhawk Area Boy Scout reservation, located seven miles south of Oregon, along the east bank of the Rock river.

While use of the 252-acre, heavily wooded reservation was made possible through the generosity of the late Hon. Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois, it required physical improvements to make it of greatest value to serve the boyhood of our area. Through the years the camp has been improved and new facilities have been added through the cooperation and financial support of the citizens of Lee, McHenry, Boone, Winnebago, Whiteside and Ogle Counties. Today, Camp Lowden is one of the finest Boy Scout camps in the nation.

Friends of Scouting have made donations to provide most of the fine buildings at camp. Most of the labor that has been put into the development of Camp Lowden has come from volunteers among Scout Masters and other Scouters. The generosity of business men and private citizens who have donated both time and money during the yearly finance drives has been of great value.

To attest to the popularity of Camp Lowden among the Boy Scouts of our area, the total attendance at camp during the 1954 season was 9,307. This included Scouts who attended one-week summer camp periods, Cub-Dad weekends, conventions, weekend campers, as well as training meeting attendance and volunteer laborers. During 1954, 44,830 meals were served in the dining hall.

The capital investment, improvement and program equipment at Camp Lowden is valued at approximately $200,000. Many of the fine buildings are outright donations, such as the health lodge, the dining hall, camp-site shelters and storage building. Through the volunteer efforts of many Scouters, a combination training center and dormitory was built. This building was destroyed by fire on July 4, 1951. Plans are in the making to erect a new dining and dormitory center.

Swimming, boating and canoeing are the main attractions at camp. All of these water sports and other camp activities are conducted by highly trained leaders to insure safety. An archery and rifle range and handicraft center all help to provide new experience for boys. Because of the hilly terrain and woodland, Camp Lowden offers excellent opportunities for hiking.

Camp Lowden spells adventure with its crackling camp fires, Paul Bunyan stories, silent Indian dances of the Order of the Arrow, and whippoorwill songs at dusk. Classes in scout craft, waterfront activities, swimming in the modern 35x90-foot pool, hikes on nature trails, and the handicraft program in the log

Wholesale Food Costs Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food costs as measured by Dun & Bradstreet moved up sharply this week, recovering all the ground lost in four successive weeks of decline.

At $6.71 the Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index for the week ended Tuesday was up 1.8 per cent from the previous figure of $6.59 and back to where it was Sept. 28 when the recent decline started.

The latest index was 3.4 per cent higher than the $6.49 reported at the same time last year.

Seventeen components of the index moved higher, including flour, wheat, oats, hams, lard, coffee, cottonseed oil, tea, cocoa, eggs, potatoes, rice, currents, steers and lambs.

Only four were lower in price: Corn, rye, barley and butter.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of 31 commonly used market-basket items.

City Purchases Garbage Packer

Dogs, Drainage, Bills Also Get Into the Act

The Dixon city council Tuesday awarded the contract for a new garbage packer to an Evanston firm, paid the semi-monthly bills, received one estimate and requested another for a West End drainage tube and heard why Councilman C. Lyle Ballard accepted the resignations of the two city dog catchers.

The Board of Improvements met following the regular session and awarded the sanitary sewer contract for the Prescott Street area to a Freeport firm.

The Griggs Equipment Company was awarded the contract to furnish the City of Dixon with a new 13-cubic yard garbage packer for $4,189.25. The new packer unit will be mounted on a street department truck chassis.

Change Minds

The Council originally voted to purchase a 16-cubic yard packer but Commissioner Joe Vaile said that the 13-cubic yard type has proven to be more practical with other cities and he feared that the larger type would be too heavy for the truck when the new dump is opened south of Dixon.

The Council received and paid the regular monthly bills totaling $15,564.75. Mayor William Slothower said the major share of the total comprised monthly salaries.

The C. K. Willett Co., which serves as the city engineers, told the Council that a five-foot concrete drainage tube from the north end of the cistern pit near Sheridan Avenue and extending 1,700 feet to the river would cost an estimated $48,125.

Permanent Deal

Mayor William Slothower added that this would be a permanent construction and could be converted into a storm sewer if the cistern area is ever converted to residential use. Mayor Slothower added, however, that the financing of such a project would be very difficult.

Commissioner Vaile said the estimate was "out of reason" because the construction of an overflow tube need not be larger than three-foot in diameter and could be routed much shorter to the river.

The old utility pit will hold an estimated 10 million gallons of

Voter Apathy Puzzling, Ike Says; Plans to Stir 'em Up

Hopes For Flying Trip To Midwest

Meets Reporters for First Time in Two Months in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he is puzzled by the apparent apathy among voters and hopes to do a little stirring up personally—if he can squeeze a one-day flying trip into his tight schedule.

In his first news conference since Aug. 17, Eisenhower said he certainly hopes the American people are going to elect a Republican congress but that he was not going to predict the outcome of next Tuesday's balloting.

Alluding to reports of an apparent lack of interest among voters, Eisenhower said he would like to dramatize his desire to see everybody vote.

Considers Trip

And, he said, he is considering a flying trip Friday which might include stops at airfields in four cities.

He didn't name the four cities but there have been reports that GOP leaders want him to visit Detroit, Louisville, Minneapolis, Boston, Wilmington, Del., and Waterloo, Iowa.

Eisenhower said his schedule is so tight that he could not possibly leave Washington except for one day of campaigning and would not know until later whether it would be possible for him to go even then.

When Eisenhower said he was puzzled by the apathy which seemed to prevail among the people, a reporter asked whether this might reflect dissatisfaction among the voters with his administration's accomplishments.

The president replied that some people had told him the apathy might be due to an entirely different reason.

Voters Satisfied

One of the reasons he had been given, he said, was that the United States had got what it wanted from his administration and the voters are satisfied. This indicated, he said, that it might not be discontent at all but too much satisfaction that was making the voters apathetic.

Answering a wide range of other question, Eisenhower said the United States now has better reason to hope for world peace than it has had in recent years.

Eisenhower defended a recent White House memorandum outlining ways in which Republican Senators, House members and other party officials should be consulted

Dixon School Tots Get GG Shots for Hepatitis

Officials Act After Two Children Are Infected

About 90 Dixon pupils in South Central and Lincoln schools received gamma globulin injections today and Tuesday as a preventive measure against infectious hepatitis.

The shots followed reports of two cases of the disease, one in a seventh grade room of Lincoln School, and the other in a seventh grade room in South Central. All pupils in both rooms received the injections.

The Lee County Health Department furnished the gamma globulin without charge. The injections were made by family physicians.

Report Monday

The two cases were reported to school officials Monday. Supt. A. H. Lancaster and school nurse, Mrs. Gertrude Crawford, contacted the health department, and the question of what preventive measures were needed was considered an incubation period of seven to 21 days after exposure. First symptoms of the illness, she said, are general fatigue and aches, vomiting, cramps and possible diarrhea.

Injured Dixon Infant 'Good'

Marcia Mason, 2½-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Theodore M. Mason, 611 N. Dixon, Ave., was reported in "good" condition today after suffering a fractured skull Tuesday.

The child fell from her mother's arms as Mrs. Mason was about to enter the family home. Mrs. Mason said she was opening the door and her daughter had her arms around her neck when Marcia twisted free and fell to the concrete floor striking the back of her head.

Marcia reportedly was resting comfortably in KSB Hospital today.

Cars Damaged In Collision On Route 26

Two Dixon men escaped injury in a two-car collision late Tuesday about a quarter mile south of Dixon on Rt. 52.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Burris said that the Rev. Arthur Vinz, 58, 410 S. Ottawa, tapped his brake light but failed to signal for a left turn while southbound and was struck in the left side by a car driven by Robert Snow, 18, 1107 Chestnut, also southbound.

Burris said that Snow told him he saw the Vinz car slowing up and started to pass him when he didn't see any signal.

Burris said the Snow car was badly damaged with the front end caved in while the Vinz vehicle was considerably damaged in the left side.

Circuit Judge Bracken Not In Race for Court Justice

Reports that Circuit Judge Robert Bracken was to be a candidate for Supreme Court justice were denied today by the Lee county jurist.

Bracken was being mentioned as running for the post to be vacated by Justice William Fulton, Sycamore, Nov. 1. Three candidates are already in the running including Circuit Judge Leon Zick, Oregon, who with Judge Bracken and Judge Harry Wheat serve in the local circuit.

Bracken in denying that he would be a candidate, issued this statement to a reporter today:

"I was elected circuit judge by the voters, both Republicans and Democrats, of Lee County in particular, and by some of the voters, both Republicans and Democrats, in Jo Daviess, Carroll, Stephenson and Ogle Counties. Elected as a Republican, which I am, and was, and always have been, though I ran on the Democratic ticket, despite what appeared to be overwhelming odds and the opposition of every form of real politics. That I know, and shall forever remember.

I owe a duty to those people; they elected me for a term of six years and I assumed the obligation and duty of serving at least, the time for which I was elected. I find it easy to fulfill my obligation; that I want, and intend to do.

"I would not even dream of being a candidate for the office of Supreme Court Judge, lately vacated by Justice Fulton. More than that, I would not accept the office, if by the wildest stretch of imagination, I thought I could have it (which I do not even think). I owe too much to the voters who put me in the office I now hold.

"I have no interest in being named as one of the many candidates for the vacancy. My only interest, and hope is that the man best qualified (not the best politician) be elected."

Jury Hears Witnesses Here Today

Two Dixon Youths Volunteer for Lie Detector Checks

A Lee county coroner's jury investigating the death of 18-year-old Marlis Wickler deliberated only 15 minutes today before returning an "open" verdict.

The jury decided that Marlis Joan Wickler, 1103 Cooper Dr., Dixon, "died as a result of shock, a basal skull fracture, a fractured pelvis and a compound fracture of the right hip suffered when she fell or leaped from a moving northbound car and was struck by a southbound auto about 1 a. m. Monday two miles south of Ambony on Rt. 52."

State's Atty. James Bales said following the verdict, "I have no comment to make until I have made a further review of the evidence."

Several new angles in the case were brought to light by the seven witnesses who testified at the hour and one-half inquest held at the Jones funeral home.

Police Testimony

Sgt. A. J. Barauski, special state police investigator, told the all-male jury that the 1941 Plymouth four-door sedan from which Marlis fell or leaped, was equipped with "old-style" doors in the rear that opened toward the rear.

He explained that the door from which Marlis apparently leaped or fell would normally be "sprung" when it was caught in a wind current while the car was proceeding at 40 miles an hour.

However, Sgt. Barauski testified, an examination showed that the door was not damaged and was functioning normally when he examined it after the incident.

Both Darrell Hunt, 21, and James Cornwell, 21 Marlis' companions, voluntarily agreed to submit to a lie-detector tests after giving testimony at the inquest.

Cornwell, who is married and has a family, admitted riding in the rear seat with Marlis while the three were en route to Mendota early Monday morning. He denied making any advances to the girl.

Tell of Meeting

He said that he and Hunt met Marlis in the DeLuxe Cafe, Dixon, about 11:30 p. m. Sunday and that the pair agreed to take Marlis to Mendota to try to find her "boy friend." The "boy friend," it has developed, was Robert E. Houch, 24, Wausong, who has denied being a "steady" of Marlis.

Cornwell said that Marlis had been drinking and told him of being at the Navy club, Dixon. He admitted that he and Hunt had consumed more than two quarts of beer apiece earlier and admitted that all three were "probably" still under the influence of liquor.

Cornwell testified that Marlis was weeping about being "frustrated" in a love affair and that he tried "to comfort her" on the way to Mendota. When they were two miles south of Ambony, Marlis apparently changed her mind. Cornwell said, and told the youths she wanted to return to Dixon.

Cornwell, and later Hunt, testified that in making the turn to Dixon, they halted the car on the shoulder and Marlis left the car.

Ran After Her

Cornwell said that Hunt ran after her and told the jury today that she said she "just wanted to walk home." He said Hunt persuaded Marlis to return to the car and moved up to the front seat and left Marlis alone in the back seat.

Cornwell added that they were just shifting the car into high gear when Marlis reportedly said, "I'm going to jump," and leaped into the path of an oncoming vehicle, driven by Barbara Knigge, Ottawa.

Cornwell said the left back door came shut when they stopped the car and that they rushed back to

President Rules Out Big 4 Meeting at This Time

Sees Better Hope Today For Lasting World Peace

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower spoke out today against any meeting of the Western Powers with Russia at this time, but left the way open for a conference later.

The President stated his position at a news conference in which he also said that in his opinion there is better reason today to hope for lasting peace than there has been in the past.

He did not pin that view directly to the new agreements for western European defense with West Germany in the lineup, but related it to that development along with others in the past two years.

Not The Time

He was specific, however, in saying it is his opinion this is not the time for any meeting of the United States, Great Britain and France with the Soviet Union. He added that whenever this government has reason to believe the Russians are sincere about wanting to build an enduring world peace, the United States will be ready to confer at any time.

Eisenhower's remarks were in response to a reporter's request that he state his position regarding the possibility of an Eisenhower conference with Premier Malenkov of Russia, either before or after ratification of the Paris agreements on Western European defense.

The questioner called Eisenhower's attention to British Prime Minister Churchill's statement that he is willing to meet with Malen-kov at an appropriate time and place but not before ratification of the Paris agreements.

Eisenhower did not link his answer specifically to the possibility of his meeting face to face with Malenkov. The President dealt in more general terms with the possibility of conferences between the Western Powers and the Soviet Union.

At his first news conference Aug. 17 the President also dealt with these other matters:

Politics — Eisenhower said he would like very much to make an 11th hour campaign trip before next Tuesday's elections, but that no decision has been reached.

Family Recreation Meet Set in Oregon on Monday

By GEORGE D. PERISHO
Ogle Farm Adviser

OREGON — On Monday, Nov. 1, there will be a family recreation program at the Coliseum in Oregon. This program will begin at 7:30 p.m. E. H. (Duke) Regnier will conduct the program which will include stunts, games and songs that may be used for family gatherings as well as community group meetings.

Many times we have had requests for games that can be used on different occasions, how to treat the various age groups, what to do with the children while the older people are playing games, and how to lead songs. I am sure that Duke will be able to bring out many valuable pointers on improving our social life in groups that we are now attending.

Illinois farmers who are raising or feeding sheep are invited to attend the annual Illinois Sheep Production Day Friday at 9 a.m. at the University of Illinois. The day's program is designed to give the latest available information on sheep production and marketing.

A rundown on the day's program includes a tour of the sheep farm with demonstrations and exhibits of some of the work that is being conducted. In addition to this, there will be a program in the Stock Pavilion with the following topics:

What about high-oil corn for lamb feeding? Can urea reduce feed costs? Feeding bred ewes and ewes with lambs. Experimental results with self-feeding. Buying replacement ewes. Peoria's experience with marketing lambs through cooperative pools.

Wool harvesting and preparation.
If you plan to attend and do not have transportation, call the Ogle County Farm Bureau office. It may be possible that there will still be room to go in one of the cars from the Farm Bureau office.

Speaking of special events at the University of Illinois, on Nov. 5 there will be a Beef Cattle Feeders Day. The program for this day will include a visit of beef cattle feeding set up at the University with discussion and topics on the various cattle feeding programs, including the use of molasses, corn cobs, corn versus grass silage and the various supplements.

I am sure that either one of these days will be well worth the time that you take to attend. I can well remember Harvey Newcomer attending the Swine Growers Day at the University and commenting that the cost of the trip and the time involved will be paid many times over by the information received from the demonstrations and talks given.

Ogle County had one of the state's 10 highest producing herds in the dairy herd improvement test, for September. Sunset Knoll Farm, Kings, whose herd of 37 purebred Holsteins averaged 1,366 pounds of milk and 52.7 pounds of butterfat per cow, ranked fifth in fat production among the 1,836 herds in test in Illinois during the month.

The state average for September is 709 pounds of milk and 27.2 pounds of fat per cow. Sunset Knoll is a member of Ogle D.H.I.A. 2.

Corn picking season is progressing in full force and I would like to again urge you folks to use caution in handling one of the most hazardous farm machines. The price of a hand or arm cannot be estimated. But after one loses a hand or arm you can easily see the benefits that you are losing.

Don't forget Tuesday, Nov. 2. You will have an opportunity to express yourself at the polls. There will be a blue ballot which proposes amending the present state apportionment, an amendment to change the term of office for the State Treasurer, and an amendment in regard to the Illinois and Michigan Canal and other waterway owned by the State of Illinois. In addition, the Ogle county folks will be asked to vote on a proposed increase in taxes for improvement of roads. In addition to these amendments, of course, you will want to express your opinions on the people you desire to have in office. Think it over thoroughly, consider the facts, and by all means vote on Nov. 2.

There will be a combat Marine group which will re-enact the raising of the flag on Iwo Jima. The Liberty Bell will peal out.

Displaying a long low silhouette, rugged front and extraordinary visibility, the four-door "Two-Ten" is one of 14 models offered by Chevrolet for 1955. In addition to bumper-to-bumper styling, the company makes available a choice of three engines, including a sensational new V8. Service Station Bandit Refuses To Take $30 Loot

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Joe Johnson, 28-year-old service station attendant, reported this incident to deputy sheriffs Tuesday night.

An old car drove up to his station, a man pointed a shotgun at him and demanded the receipts be given to his woman accomplice. Johnson handed over $30.

The woman hesitated momentarily and then suddenly shoved the money back to Johnson. "This isn't right, honey," she said to the bandit. Before the car sped away she said "He's been out of work since January."

Adenauer In Capital For Visit

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Mr. Germany" comes to town today.

Konrad Adenauer, chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany, might reject that title. And a great many of his fellow Germans might have misgivings. The idea of wrapping up a whole nation or even half a nation, in the person of one man seems to have pursued him with Adolf Hitler.

Still, Adenauer is a symbol of the new Germany to most other Western countries. Since the deaths of Ernest Reuter and Kurt Schumacher he is about the only West German political figure whose name is widely known in the United States.

Dominant Position

He occupies a dominant position too in the eyes of Western political leaders who deal with Germany. It is a respected position. Secretary of State Dulles went out of his way, in addressing Monday night's television Cabinet meeting to praise Adenauer as a "great statesman."

Many of these political figures can't figure out who the Germans have to fill Adenauer's shoes when, inevitably, the time comes for someone else to become chancellor. And Adenauer will be 79 next January. Only Winston Churchill, among the West's political leaders, is older. Churchill will be 80 Nov. 30.

In a real sense Adenauer can be called the "father" of the new West Germany. He directed the drawing up of the basic law which set up the Bonn Republic. Actually, this law is a constitution but Adenauer prefers not to use that word until such time as it can apply to a united Germany.

A Bigger Man

So Adenauer comes to Washington today as a bigger man than he was on his last visit.

That was in April 1953. Soviet Premier Stalin had died not long before and the whole world wondered if a change in Russia's attitude toward the West might follow. Adenauer was one of those who cautioned against too rosy expectations.

"We must not reject everything in advance," he said in a speech to the National Press Club, "but we must also avoid promoting any attempt to destroy the unity of the West and its unified front with regard to Soviet Russia."

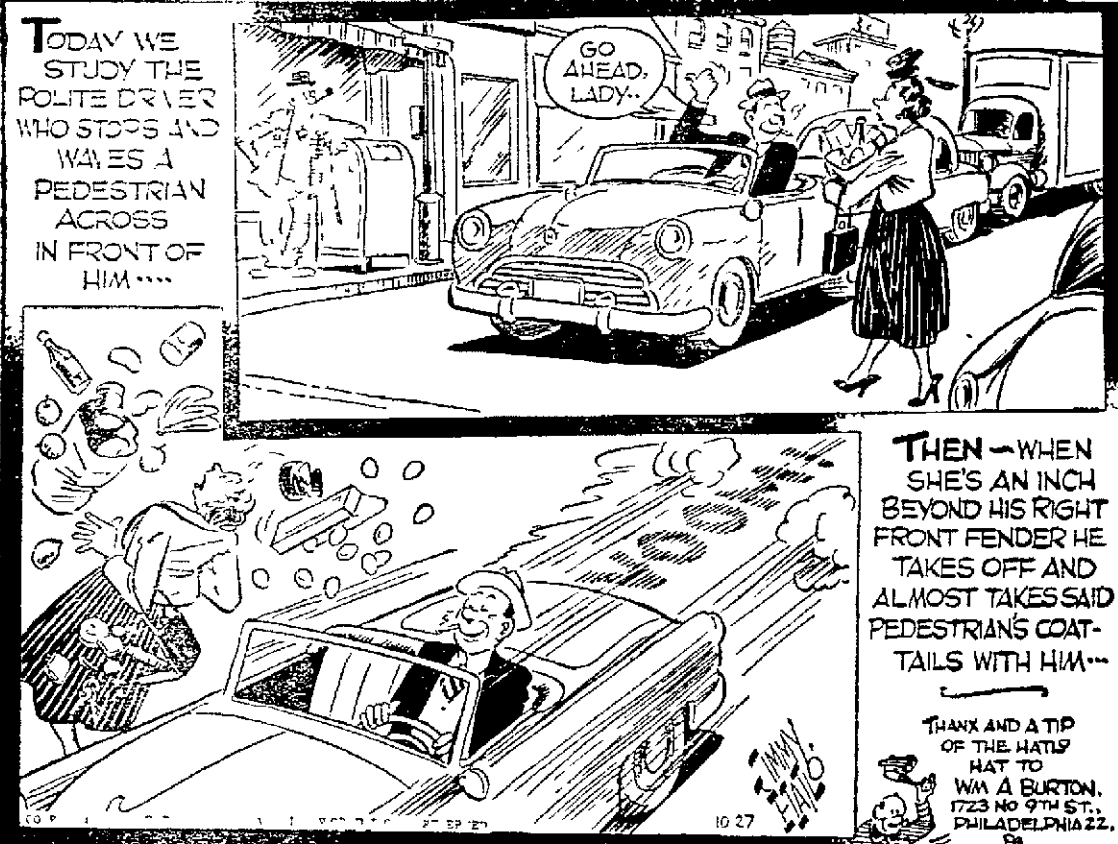

ABOUT ASTEROIDS

Asteroids are small planetary bodies between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter, revolving about the sun. The first asteroid was discovered by Piazzi in 1801. The number known at the present time is about 900.

How to Conduct a 'Model' Election

In Red-occupied East Germany, upwards of 12,000,000 voters recently went to the polls to elect new members of parliament.

As we soon will be voting ourselves, how this polling came off is worthy of serious study by every American citizen. For judging from all reports, it was truly a "model" election.

Weeks before it began, the nation's five political parties agreed on a list of candidates. Each party was assigned a number of parliament seats. The men who would run for office were grouped on an unopposed ticket billed as the National Front.

Then began the campaign. Compared to the campaign here, it was ethical in the extreme. Not one party charged another with "creating mass unemployment." Not one party labeled another as "the party of waste and corruption." None of the various candidates sneered at a running mate's record. The campaign's only objective was to get out a maximum vote, and the voters responded admirably.

Tenants from large apartment houses, and workers from various plants were marched to the polls in groups, almost as soldiers are marched. At the head of the columns were bands, and children with posters and flags. Persons who worked on the night shift were sent off to vote at 3 a. m. before they went home to bed.

There were, as there always are, occasional "trouble-makers"—a sprinkling of men and women who said they did not want to vote. But after a bit of persuasion (some of which had to be physical), most of them saw they were wrong, and quietly joined the march.

As the voters entered their polling place, they were met by four election officials. The first one checked the identity card, carried by every citizen. Election official 2 handed out printed ballots. The third one held up a ballot box, into which the paper was dropped.

Again there was sometimes a troublemaker, who insisted on voting in private. These had to walk to a booth on the opposite side of the room. Election official 4 attempted to make it clear that voting in public was much preferred, but the few who did not agree were allowed to enter the booth.

After they cast their ballot, No. 4 asked to see their identity cards and carefully noted their names.

The ballots were cast very swiftly. There was no need to read them or mark them, of course, since the men who were running were not opposed. And to rule out any confusion, space for casting a write-in vote had thoughtfully been omitted.

After the polls had closed, the people were told the results. The turnout had been remarkable: Only 1 per cent of the voters—probably those who were sick—had failed to go to the polls. And although the official outcome would not be announced for days, no one doubted reports that virtually all of the ballots had gone to National Front.

It was, as we've noted before, truly a "model" election—a model which illustrates clearly just what it is we are fighting, and what we are fighting to save.

Any American citizen who does not plan to vote in November might do himself one large favor, by carefully mulling it over.

The Doctor Says:

Problem of Too Few White Blood Cells Is Under Study

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A lady has recently written to ask for a discussion on too few white blood cells, the cause of this condition and the medical term for it. Others have asked similar questions, especially on the possible relation of the low number of white blood cells to the disease known as leukemia.

This is a somewhat bewildering subject. In reading this discussion I hope all will realize that it can be discussed only in the most general terms and that many highly trained investigators are spending much of their lives studying the human blood and how it behaves.

Granulocytopenia is the tongue-twisting name usually used to describe the condition in which the white cells of the blood (leucocytes) are fewer than normal. There is also a disease known as agranulocytosis in which one of the symptoms also consists of a lessening in the number of leucocytes in the blood.

Everyone has white cells in the blood where they exert an important function, particularly in combating infection. There are several kinds of white cells; the numbers can be counted and the kinds studied, the latter by smearing a small amount of blood on a glass slide, staining it and looking at the smear under a microscope. Normally, there are about 7,500 white cells in a cubic millimeter of blood and there is a fairly constant relation between the different kinds of cells.

In the presence of infecting germs the number of white cells is usually increased and counting them is often, therefore, an aid in diagnosis—in appendicitis for example. This increase is called leucocytosis. Many cases of granulocytopenia have resulted from drugs or medicines. This is a puzzling thing because it is only the occasional person who gets such a reaction but it does seem to be a sort of individual poisoning. Recovery usually takes place. Agranulocytosis is also a condition in which the number of white cells is lessened and this is usually ushered in with a sore throat.

So far as is known neither granulocytopenia or agranulocytosis is related to leukemia. In the latter some of the white cells grow wild; they are generally increased in number—sometimes enormously—and they appear in the blood in immature and abnormal forms. The exactness of the process and the special kinds of cells present determine the particular name attached to the leukemia and influence to some extent the outlook.

Although much is known concerning the behavior of the leucocytes of the body there are many gaps in such knowledge. Probably time will reveal much that we do not know concerning the cause of the changes which develop.

Voice of the People

Dear Editor:

In regard to an editorial in The Dixon Evening Telegraph, which I considered very fair to the Lee County Health Department. After that editorial I felt sure that the societies which had endorsed the Health Department would contact their like societies in the surrounding counties and report that those societies were sympathetic to a Tri-County Health Department. No such report has come through. Only a hint that we could have a good Health Department by ourselves.

We could never have a good County Health Department by ourselves unless every one in favor of same will sacrifice.

Just a suggestion. Collect $50 from every member of the Lee County Medical Society.

Collect $10 from every member of a society which has endorsed the Lee County Health Department. On Saturday night October 30, 1954 have deposited in the Banks of Lee County $10,000 to the account of SAVE OUR HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Then you are in a position to go to the LEE COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY and say: You have endorsed the Health Department now draft one of your members to head our Health Department. Here is the money ($10,000) so that he can go away and take the indoctrination course and become a Public Health dignitary.

We do not want any journeyman doctor in the future.

If the above suggestions are followed I feel sure that the surrounding counties will be asking to unite with our County Health Department.

A Reader.

What's Right?

It's good manners to consider the habits of your friends when you are tempted to telephone for a chat. For instance, if you know about when a young mother bathes her baby in the morning, don't call her at that time. Or if a friend naps every afternoon, call her in the morning. Nor does a man like to be called to the telephone during his favorite TV program.

Make use of what you know about your friends—if you want to be considerate.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Uncovering Hollywood: Marilyn Monroe and that other dangerously curved Hollywood blonde, Mamie Van Doren, are in the look-alike league but they're about to be disqualified for a duet on the lyrics of "Anything You Can Do, I Can Do Better."

Even if Mamie is headed for song and dance stardom in the U-I film musical, "Third Girl From the Right."

If MAMIE yells copycat, she'll be all wrong, says Mamie, who explains:

"It isn't a dumb blonde role. She's a smart character—the kind Carole Lombard once played. Besides, my singing voice is different than Marilyn's and the dancing will be different, too."

"Too Hot to Handle" is the Monroeish title of a song Mamie will sing in the film, but Mamie insists:

"Honest, our wiggles won't even be the same."

There's almost a radio soap-opera plot to Anna Maria Alberghetti singing at the forthcoming Pier Angel-Vic Damone wedding. Just a few months ago, Vic was Anna Maria's first date.

SIGN SPOTTED by Director Roy Rowland in a Hollywood beanery: "SMOGasbord."

Bad weather and the political situation may call off MGM's filming of the Stewart Granger starrer, "Bhowani," in Bombay, India. George Cukor has been scouting locations there for a month. . . . Jennifer Jones and David O. Selznick are building a small home adjoining their own mansion for Jennifer's two sons by the late Robert Walker.

Simone Silva, placed on suspension by Al Petker, the man who whisked her to Hollywood after the Cannes incident with Bob Mitchell, is admitting she's seeking legal advice.

British tax officials are clamping down on Robert Newton, who owes the kiddy $4,600 pounds in back taxes. . . . Adele Astaire, who's Mrs. Kingman Douglas in private life, arrived in town to console her brother, Fred, grief-stricken by the passing of his wife. The star's son, who's been serving overseas, is about to be transferred back to March Field, Calif.

MAJOR STUDIO casting heads are miffed with Veronica Lake, who keeps turning down comeback offers. She just vetoed a good role in MGM's "The Marauders." . . . A millionaire adorer has been saying it with diamonds to Dorothy Dandridge, a sensation in "Carman Jones." But she won't tell his name.

Hollywood did a double-take when Stanley Kramer cast Van Johnson as the Navy officer in "The Caine Mutiny." Van, they said, wasn't the type but the film proved he was. Now there are even more dubious looks over Kramer's casting of Robert Mitchum as Lucas Marsh, the doctor hero of another best seller, "Not as a Stranger."

Don't Count Your Chickens Before They're Hatched!

But here's Kramer predicting he won't regret it: "Hollywood doesn't know it but Mitchell's a great actor. He's going to explode in this role like a right hand to the chin."

There's a ring around Nov. 10 on Eleanor Parker's calendar. It's Freedom Day—her divorce is final. . . . Financial note: Now that Cinerama has hit $15,000,000 on the profit scale, Merian C. Cooper's confessing: "It's the only movie I've made since the war that cost less than $1,000,000."

OLIVIA DE HAVILLAND has romanced it up before the cameras with most of the top-profile boys—and it's Gilbert Roland in the No. 1 spot. They costarred in the British film, "That Lady," and when I asked her about the love scenes she said:

"Wow! Believe me, every minute was a pleasure."

Nora Haymes and Lili Damita may have to wait years before they can slap legal papers on Errol Flynn in Hollywood. He's formed a production partnership with Britain's Herbert Wilcox and will coproduce and costar with Anna Neagle in "King's Rhapsody" after he completes "The Black Prince." Wilcox may even pour in the greenbacks to save the ill-fated "William Tell" for Flynn.

No question that Margaret O'Brien's grown up. She's due to play the heroine in a stock production of the sexy "Gigi," the play that helped zoom Audrey Hepburn to stardom.

Reception was so good on TV, reports Dave Kaufman, that a fellow watching "Medic" too closely caught the disease.

Lavish Show of Money Won't Buy Popularity for Child

The first day of school a bunch of junior highers were bug-eyed because a new ninth grader had driven to school in his own baby-blue Cadillac convertible.

Three weeks later when someone in the same crowd mentioned his name, the teen-agers' verdict was "What a drip."

So the big, flashy car didn't do what his parents presumably hoped it would. Buy their son's popularity at school.

In fact, their foolish indulgence had the opposite effect.

NOBODY LIKES A SHOWOFF

What ninth grader could help but play the part of a show-off when allowed to drive up to school in his own expensive car when the other kids in junior high were coming to school on foot, by bus, on bicycles or in car pools—driven by a parent? And what group of teen-agers ever tolerated a show-off?

What spoiled teen-ager used to having his parents try to smooth his way for him by always seeing that he had everything he wanted and everything they dreamed up for him would have bothered to learn how to get along with others?

One thing parents can't buy with money is honest popularity for their children. Better clothes and more of them, a bigger house, more spending money, more parties, etc., don't fool other kids for long.

They know a kid can have everything that money can buy—and still be a drip.

It is only foolish parents who don't realize it.

(Copyright, 1954, Kink Features Syndicate, Inc.)

BOSTON—Inasmuch as Allen Dulles, the chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, and all others in a position to give information refuse to tell us anything about this sinister bureau, I deem it my duty under challenge by a totally un-American type of authority, to disclose information which I have obtained.

The CIA conducted its "tenth orientation course" in the auditorium of the Department of Agriculture on May 5, 6, 7 and 8, 1954.

This was described in documents as "highly confidential." The training course was "secret." Participants were cautioned not to throw "classified" papers on the auditorium floor but to place them in their offices and place them in a "classified trash."

An "intelligence bibliography" was included, the data for the course, a heterogeneous list of popular books on Communism, and against espionage.

The schedule listed Col. Matthew Baird as the first speaker of the course. Baird is described in part as follows: Born Aldmore, Pa., 1901, A. B. Princeton 1924, M. A. Princeton 1925. Doctor of Literature, A. B. College, Oxford, 1926. From 1928 to 1938 he was master and master of boys' schools, including Arizona Desert School, Tucson, Arizona. In 1938 he went ranching near the Mexican border. He served 44 months in World War II, mostly in the South Pacific. He holds the Legion of Merit, Air Force Commendation medal and battle stars. He was recalled in 1950 to be director of training of the CIA. He was for some years the husband of Audrey, daughter of Frederick Lewisohn, of the well-known New York Lewisohn family. They are divorced but are friends still.

The next speech was called "introductory message" by "the deputy director" whose name was not printed.

The third was C. D. Jackson, "special assistant to the President." This character was a White House plant of the Luce outfit which also received the Rome embassy for Luce's wife, Clare, as a political reward for favorable publicity. During her tenure, Luce has spent a lot of time in Rome, wearing striped pants, lunching and chugging his weight. This was the payoff for the "support" which Time, Life and Fortune gave like against Taft and later against Stevenson.

Jackson seems not to have been a member of the CIA. He has alternated between the Luce payroll and government jobs in the field of intrigue, called "intelligence" and "psychological warfare." He recently broke loose from the White House and went back to Luce.

The other speakers listed in the "confidential" program were: Shane McCarthy, on "CIA, Our Charter and Our Challenge";

Col. Sheffield Edwards, on "Briefing of CIA Security Officers";

Col. Lawrence K. White, on "Administrative Support";

Richard M. Scammon, State Department, on "Overt Collection" of "Raw" information;

Col. Jean W. Moreau, on "CIA's Collection";

Robert Amory, Jr., on "Coordination of Intelligence";

Otto E. Guthe, William N. Morrell, Jr., and Robert L. Allen, as members of a "panel" discussing "economic intelligence";

Huntington D. Sheldon and Edward W. Beatty, Jr., together on "Current Intelligence." Beatty is a civilian war hero, a correspondent who had a rough time. He is an intimate friend of General Toey Spaatz, the commander of our Air Force in Europe under Ike. Beatty is a friend of Ike, also. He has quit journalism.

Ralph L. Clark, Hayden Channing and Ernest J. Zellmer, as a panel discussing "Scientific Intelligence";

October Bride in Gown of Lace for Church Ceremony

Residing in Eldena are newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Lavonne Reynolds. Mrs. Reynolds is the former Bernice Grobe, daughter of the Russell Grobes, Rt. 2, Dixon, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reynolds, Rt. 2, Amboy, are the bridegroom's parents.

Arrangements of white chrysanthemums and daisies and a bouquet of white daisies were used in decorating the First Methodist church, Dixon, for their Oct. 3 wedding. Rev. Sidney Bloomquist performed the afternoon, double ring ceremony. Mrs. J. H. Hughes Ambrov, was nuptial organist and Miss Mary Poserians Dixon was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her gown of white. The floor length dress of Chantilly lace was styled with a fitted bodice, long sleeves pointed over the hands and a full skirt of nylon net over taffeta with lace insets. The bride's fingertip veil was held in place with a seed pearl crown. She carried a white orchid surrounded with white stephanotis on a white Bibie a gift from the bridegroom. For something old the bride carried her grandmother's hankie, something new was her dress, borrowed a pair of earrings and blue a garter.

Bride's Attendants

Miss Lois Grobe, Rt. 1, Dixon, was maid of honor for her cousin and Miss Lois Moritz, Dixon, was bridesmaid. Miss Grobe was in deep blue and Miss Moritz in deep pink, identical floor length frocks. They carried bouquets of white carnations and wore headpieces to match their gowns.

Lavonne Reynolds Dixon served her brother as best man and Robert Grobe, Dixon, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Donald Grobe, Woodstock, and Glenn Ransom, Rt. 2, Dixon, cousins of the bride, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress as did the bridegroom's mother. Their corsages were of pink rosebuds.

Church Reception

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors and served by the women of the church. White daisies decorated the bride's table. Misses Beverly Ransom and Helen Barlow, Dixon, were in charge of the gifts. Miss Barbara Drew, Dixon, the guest book. Mrs. Russell Hallquist, Dixon, served the coffee. Mrs. Lavonne Reynolds Dixon, punch, and Miss Mildred Ransom, Rockford, the cake.

When the newlyweds departed for a wedding trip to Missouri and the Ozark Mountains the bride donned a medium blue suit with red accessories and wore the orchid from her bouquet. She is a Dixon high school graduate. Also a Dixon high school graduate the bridegroom is employed at the Boyd Casket Co., Dixon.

Out of town wedding guests were from Lincoln, Neb., and Decatur, Rockford, Sterling, Amboy and Harmon, Ill.

Too ghastly, you think of the woman in slacks and heels. But what is a woman past moccasins age to wear? There are answers—neat flat shoes made for walking that have a shape and good thick soles. Laced or not, they're right for this problem.

The shortie nightgown is popular with those who do a wrestling match with full length nightgowns. Really short with maturing panties or knee length is a pretty as a baby. You need not freeze—get a warm robe.

Sarah Circle Hears Events Of Fall Days

Mrs. Alfred Tice was hostess to 16 members of Sarah Circle when they met Oct. 21. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. C. G. Popma, Mrs. James Ketchum and Mrs. Flo. Hollenbeck.

Mrs. Harry Teachout conducted the business session. Plans were discussed for the Christmas bazaar, the June supper and the Nov. 4 WSCS meeting. Attendance at the Oct. 27 Quiet Day also was urged.

Mrs. D. G. Palmer selected the subject of prayer for the devotion program. Mrs. W. H. Pince read a review of the first two chapters of the study book, "Man and God in the Country," as prepared by Mrs. E. M. Greene.

Mrs. A. N. Richardson will be group hostess Nov. 18.

Sorority Tea

Gamm Mu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority will have a tea honoring rushers from 2 until 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Oct. 30, in Loveland Community House.

LADY BUGS TO MEET

The Military Order of Lady Bugs will have a regular meeting at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 29, in the home of Mrs. George Lenox. There will be election of new officers and a Halloween party. Members are invited to bring a guest.

Assisting hostesses are Eileen Hobbs, Marie Bay, Dorothy Carlson, Ruth Kandler, Crystal Busser and Kate Stover.

WOMAN'S BIBLE CLASS

The Woman's Bible class of the First Methodist church will have a 1:30 o'clock dessert luncheon Thursday with Mrs. C. C. Hintz and Miss Estella Anderson, 616 East Fellows.

For Chic Look Avoid Frills

By MURICA HART
SLA Beauty Editor

The tall older woman who longed for a tiny delicate Dresden doll look doesn't realize that she can be striking in a way her smaller sisters never can be.

Instead of wearing frilly trimmings and ruffles which she feels make her look more feminine, she could acquire a smart sophisticated appearance by choosing clothes with slimming lines and smooth fabrics.

Especially if she's heavy, the taller woman only emphasizes her largeness with puffy dresses, small handbags and generally tiny accessories.

Wide flange cuffs and huge collars are fashion features that look well on the large woman. Frequently she must avoid sales and slinky material. An inexpensive dress of coat does nothing for her since she needs quality material and lots of it to look well in her clothes.

If she chooses a wrap dress with a full skirt to prevent clinging, attention to her heavy hips she must make sure the jacket is slim to cut her height in half.

The tall woman must make sure her undergarments are staying enough support for her figure. Her bras and girdles must be selected very carefully to provide her with basic firm lines.

Keeping her height and weight in mind at all times will help the older woman to acquire the slimming look so often associated with the sophisticated type of woman.

the girl's body and sent the Knigge car into Amboy for an ambulance. Cornwell said that Marlis tried to arise twice after being run over. He said they flagged the traffic around her body and covered her up to keep her warm until the ambulance arrived 45 minutes later.

Hunt repeated Cornwell's testimony and told of Marlis telling the pair she was going to "kill herself" but he reportedly said, "Marlis you're crazy!"

A discrepancy in the story of the two Dixon youths came when Cornwell testified that Marlis got out of the car while they were waiting to make a U-turn on the west shoulder of the highway and Hunt said it was the east shoulder.

Hunt answered Bales' query by saying that Cornwell "must have been confused."

Barbara Driving
Barbara Knigge, 18, and her mother, Mrs. Knigge, both of Ottawa, testified that Barbara was driving the southbound car that ran over Marlis on the highway and mentioned they noticed the Cornwell car slowing down.

Neither Barbara nor her mother could testify that they saw the rear door of the Cornwell car open.

Robert E. Houck, 24, Wauwung, denied that he had ever taken Marlis but said he had taken her home "eight or ten" times. He denied that there was anything serious between them and told of no fight or argument Saturday night when he took her home after she got off work at the "Loop Tap," Dixon.

He said he was in LaSalle Sunday night with four other fellows and was to pick up Marlis Monday night after work. He said he had never had any close relationships with her.

Houck said he had known her for about four years and said that she did drink.

Miss Knigge, driver of the car that hit Marlis' body, said that she was attempting to get the Cornwell car to dim its lights but couldn't. She told the coroner's jury that she saw "something" lying in her lane but couldn't tell what it was.

She said she almost wrecked her car trying to swerve into the other lane to miss it, but knew her right wheels passed over the girl's legs. She said the body was directly in her path with Marlis' head pointing toward the west ditch.

"Worked Fine"
Deputy Sheriff Robert Burrs also testified that he examined the Cornwell car and reported it "worked fine" and didn't seem to be sprung.

Coroner Robert Preston read the jury the report of Dr. Gene A. Sullivan who was the attending physician at the Amboy hospital, and it said the girl died from shock suffered from a basal skull fracture, a fractured pelvis and a compound fracture of the right hip. He didn't recommend an autopsy.

Marlis died at 5:30 a. m. Tuesday in the Amboy Public Hospital.

There is a slight change in the funeral plans. Services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Thursday in the Jones Funeral Home and at 10 a. m. in St. Anne's church.

Lee County Polio Cases Drop Sharply

The number of polio cases in Lee County has dropped drastically this year when compared with 1953.

Lee County Health Department officials said today that only four cases have been reported this year. During 1953, the total was 28. The officials said the largest number of cases has been reported during the summer months in other years, but a few isolated cases developed as late as November.

President said the Federal Power Commission has declared the contract to be proper and fair and that the Tennessee Valley Authority has found it satisfactory.

Congress, Eisenhower added, will have the last word on the matter, and pending its evaluation he will have nothing further to say on the subject.

Taxes — Asked for more definite information regarding his campaign statements that the administration wants to cut taxes further, the President replied he is not in a position to give any detailed picture on that at this time. He went on to say the fiscal situation seems to bar any great reductions.

National economy — Eisenhower said the 400,000 reduction in unemployment he reported Monday night is the result of a general upturn in the entire economy.

Supreme Court — Dealing with the Supreme Court vacancy caused by the death of Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson, the President said that in general he believes it to be good practice in filling such openings to pick men who have had prior experience in the lower courts. That was in line with the President's view, as reported in Denver earlier this month by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), who urged the President to nominate Federal Circuit Judge Orrie L. Phillips.

In one of nature's finest beauty spots, the civic-minded people of Dixon and the other communities in the Blackhawk Area Council have together made Camp Lowden what it is today. With the continuation of this fine spirit of cooperation, they will continue to build for greater achievements. V. A. Gower, chairman of the local Boy Scout Finance Drive now under way, reports that the results of the downtown campaign which started last week were gratifying, but that it is only with the generous support of the people of Dixon during this week's drive in the residential districts that the desired goal can be realized. Based on a cost of $8.50 per boy, per year to operate the Blackhawk Area Council, Dixon's share is $3,782.50. There are 205 Boy Scouts and 240 Cub Scouts in the city.

Gower says, "In giving to the Council budget we know that we are not engaged in subsidizing boys or undermining their independence and self-reliance, but that we are supporting a program to help boys to help themselves. By donating to the current finance drive, every citizen has the opportunity to support the character-building, citizenship-training program which Scouting offers to the boys of Dixon and the area."

Cook Suicides
As Police Try To Question Him

CHICAGO (AP) — George Luckych, 62, a cook shot and killed himself Tuesday night in his northwest side home as police sought to gain entrance to question him in connection with a murder.

Lt. George Hatch of the forest preserve rangers said Luckych fled to the bathroom after police told his wife, Lucille, 60, they wanted to question him about the murder of David Kosner, 22. Kosner was found shot to death in a forest preserve Oct. 3.

Hatch said a .32 caliber revolver found near Luckych's body was taken to the crime laboratory for comparison tests with .32 caliber bullets found in Kosner's body.

No, the president replied, adding that the general effect of messages he had received was that the people wouldn't put him into the election. That was a general complaint from the Republican side, he said.

Corn Harvest Is Lagging

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The corn harvest lags behind a year ago and about 40 per cent of the crop remains in the fields.

This was reported Tuesday by the state-federal agriculture departments and weather bureau, which said that at this stage of 1953 all but 20 per cent of corn had been picked.

In their weekly bulletin, the agencies said the effect of heavy rains early in the month was to delay corn picking, especially in northern sections of the state.

About 90 per cent of the big soybean crop has been harvested.

The bulletin said all but 10 per cent of intended wheat acreage has been sown. Seeding is a little further advanced than usual.

Reds Reject U. S. Protest Over Embassy Men's Wives

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today returned a U. S. note protesting against what the United States called the forcible detention of the wives of two American embassy officials.

The U. S. Embassy in Moscow takes an extremely grave view of the incident, feeling that it strikes at the basic issue of the personal safety of American diplomatic personnel in Russia.

Violates Practice
In Washington, the State Department said the women were held by Russian secret police for approximately an hour and a half Monday "in violation of generally accepted diplomatic practice that prohibits the arrest or detention of persons having recognized diplomatic status."

U. S. officials said the Soviet government countered the U. S. protest by accusing one of the wives, Mrs. Earl E. Sommerplatte, of "hooliganism" — a Soviet term for rowdy behavior — and demanding her recall by the United States. Mrs. Sommerplatte is the wife of the embassy's second secretary.

The other woman involved in the incident was identified as the wife of Marine Lt. Col. Houston Stiff, assistant naval attaché at the embassy.

Became Alarmed
Washington officials said the women became alarmed during their detention and a scuffle ensued. One of the women slapped one of the policemen. This apparently was the basis of the hooliganism charge against Mrs. Sommerplatte.

U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Boslen heard about the incident Monday when he returned from lunch. He immediately notified the State Department in Washington and sent Frank Siscoe, first secretary of the embassy, to the Soviet Foreign Office to make an oral protest to the acting head of the American section.

GM Sales Drop; Profits Gain

Net earnings for the period climbed to $85 million dollars, the big auto maker reported Tuesday. This was equal to $6.58 a share. It compared with a net of 453 million, or $5.08 a share, in the first nine months last year.

Mobs Riot After Attack On Nasser

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—A Security Ministry official said an angry mob set fire to the headquarters of the fanatical Moslem Brotherhood today in a demonstration against last night's apparent attempt to assassinate Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser.

A widespread roundup of leaders of the brotherhood was reported under way.

Eight Shots

In Alexandria Monday night, eight deliberately placed pistol shots rang out while Nasser addressed a big rally celebrating the signing of the British-Egyptian agreement on the Suez Canal zone. Nasser was not hurt. He shouted to the startled crowd that the shots were "a criminal's attempt against my life."

Four men arrested as suspects in the shooting were identified as members of the brotherhood, which had been conducting an underground campaign against the Suez settlement, which they charge does not clear the British completely out of Egypt.

Traffic Halted

In Cairo, streetcars and buses were at a standstill this morning, apparently as the result of a demonstration of union workers against the incident. Thousands of persons going to work were stranded.

There was no comment from the government on reports that security police were rounding up brotherhood members but dozens of persons in the Imbaba district of Cairo, home of one of the four suspects, were taken into custody for questioning.

In the incident Monday night in Alexandria's Liberation Square, an electric light bulb near the Premier was shattered by one bullet and two minor officials were cut by flying glass.

The 36-year-old Nasser continued his speech and two hours later the Egyptian state broadcasting system rebroadcast the address.

Iron seldom is found in a pure state.

Senator Opens Case of Peress Asks Stevens to Name Man Who Promoted Him

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy discharged from that post. The (R-Wis.), evidently as a part of his defense against censure charges, renewed today a request for information about the Peress case from an old adversary, Secretary of the Army Stevens.

One of the grounds cited by a special six-man committee in recommending that McCarthy be censured by the full Senate was an accusation that he abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker last February while questioning him about Maj. Irving Peress.

Describes Dentist

Peress is a New York dentist described by the Wisconsin senator as a "Fifth Amendment Communist" who, he says, was promoted and honorably discharged despite a refusal to answer questions about alleged Red ties. The Army has conceded the case was badly handled.

Zwicker, now stationed in Japan, was commanding officer at Camp Kilmer, N. J., when Peress was

Eastern Manager Of Wards Resigns

SUMMIT, N. J. (AP)—Robert H. Field, manager for the eastern region for Montgomery Ward & Co., said today he had resigned from the company.

The resignation, the result of a "difference of opinion," was effective Monday, Field said at his home here.

He said he had taken the step himself and was on "very friendly terms" with the company management.

Field had been with Montgomery Ward for 26 years. The eastern region headquarters is in New York City. He said he had no particular plans for the future.

Sources close to Ward officials in Chicago had reported Field's action was the result of differences of opinion over the scope of an expansion and modernization program proposed for the store system by Sewell L. Avery, chairman of the board, and Edmund A. Krieger, President.

John A. Roebbing, German-born American engineer, who later designed Brooklyn bridge, invented wire rope.

Bewitching Wildcats Brew Mighty Upset for Ohio State

'We're Out to Beat Them,' Voights Says

Northwestern Eyes First Loop Win Since 1952 Season

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Be-ware, Ohio State!

This is the weekend of witches and goblins and Northwestern's Wildcats are working late these autumn nights brewing evil potions which could dry up the love-liest Pasadena rose bud.

The victory-starved Wildcats could turn this dismal season into a real success with a triumph Saturday over the buckeyes.

Coach Bob Voights, flustered because his team has lost three of its last four games by one touch-down, realizes Ohio State is the No. 1 team in the nation.

"Ohio State is a very fine team," Voights said Tuesday. "I think they're better defensively than they were last year and they have a good forward wall. Both (Bobby) Watkins and (Hopalong) Cassidy are real good and that Cassidy can break up a ball game any-time."

Cassidy A Problem
"But we're out to beat them and we can do it, I think, if we play the type of ball we did against Michigan in the last half. Cassidy, of course, is our big problem."

Northwestern fell before Mich-igan, 7-0, but the Wildcats held the Wolverines to a scant eight yards rushing in the second half and finished with a big advantage in the statistics.

Bothered with fumbles most of the season, Northwestern appears to have solved that problem. The Wildcats lost the ball but twice to Pitt last Saturday. However, the Panthers scored in the final sec-onds to win, 14-7.

Excellent Punting
Upsetting the Buckeyes will be no easy problem. Fortified with an excellent line, Coach Woody Hayes, in addition to Cassidy and Watkins, has a smooth quarter-back in Dave Leggett and one of the best sophomores in the con-ference in fullback Hubert Bobo.

Bobo not only is a good offensive fullback but performs brilliantly on defense and does the punting.
"Not since Curly Morrison and Vic Janowicz have we had such excellent punting," says Bill Synpp, Buckeye publicist.

Ohio State has won five straight this season, a feat no other Buck-eye team has accomplished since the 1944 Big Ten champions who went undefeated in nine games.

Nothing To Lose
Psychologically, Northwestern should be at an advantage. The Wildcats have nothing to lose and everything to gain. Ohio State comes in riding high after its Wis-consin victory and could let down in view of the fact that it is facing a team which hasn't won in the conference since 1952.

Aware of this, Hayes earlier this week said "Northwestern held Michigan to eight yards in the last half and lost to Pitt in the last 40 seconds. If you take a team like this lightly, you're crazy."

Northwestern could turn out to be a sleeping giant.
Of course, the witches and goblins will be at work this home-coming weekend.

Houston Has Two Platoons

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Two-platoon foot-ball is dead, but Houston is bidding strongly for the Missouri Valley Cham-ionship with the next thing to it — two complete teams al-ternating equally.

The Cougars, heading for a showdown with Wichita Saturday at Wichita, have but one man among the valley's first 13 ball carriers in yardage, but nine of their backs carried from 13 to 36 times and six are around the 100-yard mark.

Wichita comes close to a two-unit attack in most positions, both in the line and backfield, but the Wheatshockers can't quite match Houston's depth.

66-1 Shot Wins Irish Sweepstakes

NEWMARKET, England (AP)—Minstrel, a 66-1 longshot, won the 112th Cambridgeshire handicap to-day in a four-horse photo finish. An Irish Sweepstake is based upon this race.

Minstrel, ridden by C. Gaston, carried the light weight of 103 pounds in the mile and one fur-long race on the Newmarket Heath turf course. The race was worth $8,733 to the winner.

Queen's Beches finished second and Marshall Ney was third. Turk's Blood, the co-favorite in the race, was a nose back in fourth place after the camera sorted out the bunched horses.

Thirty six horses started in New-market's October classic.

Flanagan Vs. Harper In TV Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Welter-weight title bout consideration will be at stake here tonight when Del Flanagan of Minneapolis, the No. 2 ranking contender, tangles with Maurice Harper of Oakland.

The 10-rounder at Winterland Arena will be nationally televised at 8 p. m. CST (CBS).

Flanagan, shifty and clever, is riding the crest of a 10-fight win-ning streak which includes a de-cision over the newly crowned World's Welterweight Champion, Johnny Saxton.

Harper is unranked and unknown except in this area. Local ring-siders think he has a brilliant future. This will be his first shot at a high ranking contender. The Oakland boy has been ducked con-sistently by 117-pounders around San Francisco.

Harper is now under the man-agement of Sid Flaherty, manager of Middleweight Champion Carl (Bobo) Olson.

"If Harper wins, I'm ready to guarantee Saxton $50,000 to put his title on the block," Flaherty said. The offer was telephoned Tuesday to Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club.

AP Names Cassady as Top Back

By The Associated Press
Wisconsin's Alan Ameche wasn't kidding last week when he tabbed Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, Ohio State half back, as an "under-rated back who should be All America."

Coaches and sports writers en-thusiasmatically seconded that nom-ination today when they picked 177-pound Ohio State junior as The Associated Press Back of the Week for his performance against Wis-consin last Saturday.

"Cassady was the difference," said Wisconsin Coach Ivy William-son. "He's been the big guy every year against us. He does these things all the time—and just when they hurt most."

Where "Hoppy" really hurt the Badgers was by intercepting a pass and racing 88 yards for a touch-down that put Ohio State ahead 10-7 in the third quarter. After that, Wisconsin's defense fell apart and Ohio moved to three touch-downs in six plays.

Cassady didn't expect to score when he grabbed Jim Miller's pass. "I just got it and thought I'd run as far as I could," he ex-claimed. "Somebody threw me a beautiful block and then when I got down on the sidelines near our bench, I thought maybe I could go if I cut back."

He cut and, as Coach Woody Hayes put it, "turned on all the jets."

In addition to that run, Cassady gained 59 yards in 7 runs from scrimmage, caught 2 passes for 25 yards and did some great blocking.

British Tourney Officials to Stop Slow Golf Play

LONDON (AP)—British tourna-ment golfers who use the Ameri-can style of play — slow walking, long putt alignment and delibera-tion over club selection — will have to change their ways before 1955.

The British Professional Golfers' Assn. said today that traffic of-ficials called "watchers," will be on all courses where PGA tourna-ments are played next spring and summer. The traffic cops have in-structions to speed up play.

Warnings for "undue delay" will be issued to all first offenders. If that does not step up things, the rule book will be thrown at the slow pokes. In other words, the rule that calls for a penalty of two strokes in medal tournaments or loss of the hole in match play, will be invoked.

American golfers are notoriously slow players by British standards and not a week goes by during the summer season without some British writer making the slow visiting Yanks his essay subject.

Peoria and Brazil Top World Cage Tourney Show

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The United States, represented by the Peoria (Ill.) Caterpillars, and Brazil shape up at the two top teams as the final round of the second world basketball tournament got underway today.

Both were impressive in the elim-ination round, which reduced the field to eight teams. The Cater-pillars crushed both Canada and Peru while Brazil had easy going against Paraguay and the Philip-pines.

Others who qualified for the final round, in which each team will play seven games, are Uruguay, Cana-da, France, Israel, China and the Philippines.

Israel eliminated Chile 55-49 Tuesday night and Canada dropped Peru 68-58.

The Caterpillars meet the Philip-pines today while Brazil take on China.

Illini Will Lose: Swami

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Purdue, Ohio State, Michigan and Pittsburgh mixed knockout drops in the Ol' Swami's tea leaves last week. He's trying to recover:

Ohio State 27, Northwestern 13 — The blistering Buckeyes have bounded into the No. 1 ranking on the AP poll off their 31-14 de-cision over Wisconsin. . . North-western, after eight successive conference losses dating back to 1952, could salvage the season with an upset. . . But the Wildcats, even if they weren't plagued by injuries this week, will have to spring the surprise on some one else. . .

Wisconsin 14, Iowa 7 — Here's a vote of confidence that the Bad-gers will forget that nightmare at Ohio State and continue to chase the Big Ten title. . . They certainly can't be counted out with only one defeat against them, but they could with another. . . Iowa downed Indiana last week and is gradually working back up the lad-der after league setbacks to Mich-igan and Ohio State. . . And the Hawkeyes will have the home town cheering section behind them at Iowa City. . .

Michigan 20, Indiana 13 — The Wolverines may cool off after single-winging over Minnesota 34-0, but not enough to be upset by Indiana. . . Maybe the Hoosiers are ready to jell, like Michigan did against the Gophers. . .

Purdue 21, Illinois 13 — Len Dawson's passing and Bill Mura-kewski's bull-like rushes should keep the Illini working overtime. . . Illinois' line and blocking still looked pitiful in a ragged 34-5 triumph over Syracuse. . . J. C. Caroline may be more than a car-ch for the Boilermakers, how-ever. . . The Illini halfback has rushed for 560 yards in 70 trips so far this season compared to 734 in '53 at the same time last year. . . In his last three games he has made 28 unassisted tackles on defense. . . Look for more passes being thrown his way from now on. . .

Michigan State 19, Minnesota 13 — Figuring the Spartans' speed can knock out the gophers' split-T machinery. . .

Notre Dame 21, Navy 14 — A big upset could be brewing here, for the inspired Middies have one of their better teams and will be shooting for their first victory over the Irish since a 32-13 conquest in 1944. . . However, the Irish have had two weeks to prepare for this — and they needed it. . .

Friday night — Detroit 14, Mar-quette 13 — Cincinnati was able to pin only a 21-13 licking on Detroit, but smashed the Warriors 30-13.

Pro Owner Says Split-T Is No Good

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Pres-ton Marshall, outspoken owner of the Washington Redskins, today branded the split-T "lazy man's football."

His coach, Joe Kuharich, went a step further, predicting the split-T would be dead in half a dozen years.

Marshall said none of the 12 Na-tional Football League teams has adopted the split-T offense because "it's so easy to defend against."

"The college coaches have adopted the split-T," Marshall said, "because it's the easiest form of offense to teach."

Don't Measure Up
He added in an interview that he had said the same thing many times to Jim Tatum, coach at the University of Maryland, one of the leading split-T exponents in the country.

Kuharich said split-T players drafted by the pros don't measure up to professional standards. He listed Maryland and Oklahoma as the two strongest collegiate split-T outfits over the years and said practically nobody from either of these schools had turned into a professional star.

The split-T was devised by Don Faurot, coach at the University of Missouri. His two disciples, Tatum and Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, gave impetus to the split-T move-ment, which now has spread to hundreds of colleges.

"You don't have to teach kids how to block under the split-T," Kuharich said. "You don't have to teach them intricate plays."

Furgol Concerned Over Ailing Arm

ST. LOUIS (AP)—National Open Golf Champion Ed Furgol was still concerned over his ailing arm today although he reported a "100 per cent improvement" after a brief practice session.

Furgol injured his right arm during a driving exhibition in Syd-ney, Australia. The golfer's left arm is permanently stiff and 10 inches shorter than his right arm as a result of a childhood accident.

"WE'VE HAD TO hold this team together with tape," Pat Holland, Oregon football coach explained yesterday. And the latest report could hardly be considered bright.

Still, Holland was emphatic in saying "We're going to win that game (against Polo), Friday. We have a tough bunch of boys who can turn in a good job at any position."

SINCE THE beginning of the season, Holland said, Oregon has had one injury after another. The latest involved the loss of Lanny Kiest, right halfback, who has 34 bad ankle as a result of last week's game with Milledgeville.

Others who have been lost to the team include Rusty Rush, who suffered a head injury in the South Beloit game and is not ex-pected to be ready for basket-ball season; Harry Beecham, de-fensive left halfback, who upon recovering from a football in-jury put himself out of action recently when he shot himself in the foot in a hunting accident; and John Bealy, left tackle, who suffered a broken leg in the Mt. Carroll game.

BUT ALL IS NOT disillusioning for the Hawks. Adhesive tape, 41 boxes of it, has kept the Hawks going through the conference season with three wins and one tie as they come up against a Polo outfit that has the same record this season.

And, a great desire to play and win has helped immeasurably. Holland reports that halfbacks have filled in on the line and linemen in the backfield and turned in a job that belied the fact that they had not played the new position all season.

THE LINE, Holland says, has been tough defensively but a little slow on offense. The Hawks have good size in their starting wall with Dick Haas and Ole Reid at ends. Noel Himes, Barrel Kump at tackles, Earl Masters and Gen Snapp at guards and Charles Mc-Court at center.

In the backfield, Holland uses Jack Glofferty at quarterback, Jim Snapp at fullback and a host of boys alternating at the half-back slots. Holland explained he used a lot of halfbacks because many of Oregon's running plays are from the winged-T and call for the halfback to do a large amount of work.

THE HALFBACK positions usually find Danny Etnyre and Bob Reidesel starting and then giving away to Spencer Price, Ramey Robbins and Don Hosier.

HOLLAND FEELS he has a well balanced attack with good running backs, a strong plunger in fullback Jim Snapp and a "pretty fair" passer in Glofferty, who, Holland reports, completes about 75 per cent of his tosses. That's a lot of completions since Holland figures half the Hawks' plays are passes.

All of this tends to indicate that the championship clash be-tween Oregon and Polo at Ore-gon shapes up to be an interest-ing ball game. The contest starts at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Today Is Last Day of Macks And Athletics

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Barring un-foreseen developments, today marks the final hours of the Mack baseball dynasty—a half century of Philadelphia Athletics ownership by Cornelius J. McGillicuddy.

Thursday at 10:30 a. m. the own-ers of the other seven American League clubs gather in New York to vote on sale of the A's stock to an eight-man Philadelphia syndi-cate.

If their vote is favorable—and, Arnold Johnson notwithstanding, there appears little chance it will be otherwise—the only Mack con-tact with the Athletics will be a one-ninth share in the club retained by son Roy Mack, and the title of honorary president bestowed on Connie Mack Sr.

"Still Interested"
Johnson, Chicago businessman who "almost" bought the A's ear-lier this month and then lost out to the Philadelphia group, announced Tuesday he planned to attend the league owners meeting in New York Thursday and stated he was "still interested in buying the Phila-delphia franchise for transfer to Kansas City."

However, League President Will Harridge, in announcing the meet-ing, said the owners would consid-er the sale of the franchise to the Philadelphia syndicate. He made no mention of Johnson.

Whether Johnson will make an effort to be heard at the New York session—and whether such an effort would be successful—will have to wait until Thursday for an-swers.

Only Formality

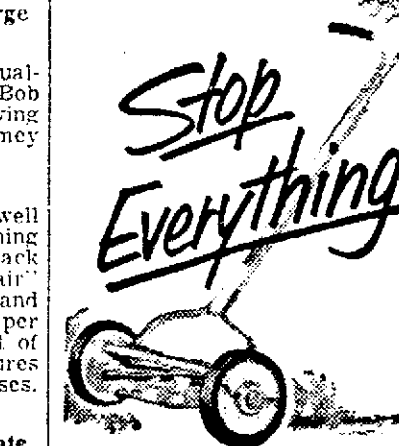

The general feeling in Philadel-phia Tuesday night was that the long, hard struggle was nearly over, with the Athletics destined to remain in the city where they were first fielded as an American League entry by Connie Mack at the turn of the century.

If the owners approve the sale to the syndicate, there will remain only the formality of exchanging the syndicate's cash for the A's stock.

Connie Sr. will be handed—prob-ably at a meeting in Philadelphia Friday—$804,000 for his 326 shares. Another son, Earle, is to get $450,000 for his 126 shares, and Roy will receive $200,000 cash and re-tain a one-ninth interest in the club.

BOSTON—Jackie Blair, 131", Dallas, and John Peden, 131, Brooklyn, drew 10.

DETROIT—Vern Alkins, 132, St. Louis, outpocketed Henry Hank, 119", De-troit, 8.

Mitchell Pledges Jobless Action GOP Dedicated to Jobs Without War, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell has pledged "any and every government action necessary" to boost employment and living standards, carrying out the "prosperity without war" theme to which the Republicans have pitched their campaign to win control of the next Congress.

Following President Eisenhower's lead, Mitchell told a nationwide television and radio audience Monday night that 1954 has been "the most prosperous peacetime year in our history."

His Politicians
He lashed out at "politicians trying to get your vote by distorting facts and trying to scare you." He said that while there was some prosperity during the 20 years of Democratic administrations, "it was built on the suffering and tragedy of two wars."

The Eisenhower administration has brought about peace and increasingly prosperous times and is working for further economic improvement, he said.

"We are looking forward to more jobs, more production, and a higher standard of living for all Americans," he said.

"We Republicans are committed and determined to keep the people of the United States prosperous and to take any government action necessary to expand employment and have an ever-higher standard of living for all the people of the United States.

One-Two Punch

An Eisenhower economic speech Monday night and Mitchell's follow-up appeared designed as a one-two counterpunch against frequent Democratic campaign claims that the Republican administration has neglected the working men and kept aloof from the jobless problem.

Eisenhower said unemployment declined by 400,000 from September to October. The exact figures as released by the Commerce Department Monday, showed a 358,000 drop, from 3,099,000 to 2,741,000.

A September-October decline in the jobless total is normal, but the Commerce Department said this month's drop "appeared to be larger than usual." The department said the seasonally indicated decline normally would be 230,000. The total of employed in October was put at 62,111,000—virtually unchanged from September.

Phone Workers Get Pay Raise

CHICAGO (AP)—A new contract giving pay raises to 10,000 Illinois Bell Telephone Co. employees goes into effect today.

The company and the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers approved the contract

Tuesday. It will run to April 30, 1956.

The raises which Illinois Bell said would add one million dollars a year to the payroll, range from $1 to $2.50 weekly. The former scale ran from $14.50 to $104.50.

'Pocketbook' Vote Seen In Middlewestern Nov. 2

Democratic Resurgence Seems to Be Under Way

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of summing-up stories by roving Associated Press reporters who are analyzing the campaign in various sections of the country.

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

CHICAGO (AP)—Farm belt people—not all, but a significant number—apparently are going to let their pocketbooks vote for them next Tuesday.

Many farmers have lower incomes without lower expenses. Unemployment and short shifts have hit some cities.

And, unless current omens turn out to be as changeable as autumn leaves, something of a Democratic resurgence seems to be under way in nine Midwest states. For the voters evidently are inclined to take their troubles to the Democrats this year and take them out on the Republicans.

Intangible Trend

The seeming trend is an intangible, elusive sort of thing blended from many factors. It can't be translated ahead of time into so many votes or so many victories for either party.

It may bring about no shifts at all in seven Senate and seven gubernatorial seats. Republicans now hold all the governorships and four of the Senate seats.

Both parties expect to gain and lose some House members. But Democrats have buoyant hopes of turning up with a net of six to nine gains—enough from the Midwest alone to assure control of the House. They look for even more if the customary trend toward the party out of power runs really strong in this non-presidential election year.

These nine Midwest states—Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, and the two Dakotas—have 77 House seats; 54 held by Republicans, 23 by Democrats.

Ike Popular

President Eisenhower still is vastly popular in this area. Republican orators, using a 1954 twist to a 1916 Democratic slogan, get a big hand with their dining cry that "he got us out of war." And the GOP unquestionably would have few farm belt worries if all the people friendly to the President would turn out and vote Republican.

Yet there is a tendency to disassociate Eisenhower from his party and its program. Many people who still "like Ike" apparently will vote Democratic. A substantial proportion of them don't like Secretary of Agriculture Benson and the administration farm program.

With last minute reversals of form always a possibility, this is the way things looked politically in the Midwest a week before Nov. 2.

ILLINOIS—

The consensus of political experts, professional and nonprofessional, is that Paul H. Douglas, "New Deal," "Fair Deal" Democrat, has the edge for another Senate term. The Republican nominee is Joseph T. Meek, former spokesman and lobbyist for Illinois merchants.

The present division of 25 House seats is 16 Republicans, 9 Democrats. Democrats say they may drop three of their nine, but hope to pick up four others for a gain of one. There is no gubernatorial race.

IOWA—

Democratic Sen. Guy M. Gillette may win again in a state normally 3-2 Republican. Republicans vote for him when they won't for any other Democrat. The Republican nominee is Rep. Thomas E. Martin. The farm issue is the big one.

MISSOURI—

Democrats are confident of retaking a House seat in former President Truman's district and perhaps one other. The present party division is seven Democrats, four Republicans.

KANSAS—

Eisenhower's home state evidently will give him a vote of confidence by again electing Republican Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel, a Republican governor, and all six Republican House candidates. That means the Democrats would lose a 1st District House seat they won in 1952 on a local issue involving a flood control dam.

NEBRASKA

The Cornhuskers have a triple header Senate election because of the deaths of their two GOP senators. One is for a short term in the present Congress, lasting only until January. Republicans are favored in all three, although Democratic James F. Green, a good speaker with many American Legion friends, is putting up a stiff battle for a four-year term.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Sen. Mundt and the state's two GOP representatives all voted against the administration's flexible farm plan. Their Democratic challengers are against it, too. So it's hard to find an issue. The Republicans are expected to win as usual, but by smaller margins.

NORTH DAKOTA

This state is firmly Republican and there seems to be no question that it will stay that way.

MINNESOTA

Republicans would like nothing better than for Val Bjornson to trounce the Republican, nominee Humphrey. But it looks like too big an assignment.

For the first time in a decade, Minnesota Democrats rolled up a bigger primary vote than the Republicans. They hope to go on and pick up a Republican House seat or two. GOP chiefs predict it will be the other way around in House races. Republicans now hold five of the nine House seats, and they expect to re-elect a governor.

WISCONSIN

Democrats piled up their biggest primary vote in history and figure a trend is under way that will get them one or two more House seats. They have two now against eight for the GOP. Wisconsin has no Senate race. There may be considerable split ticket voting that will let the Republicans re-elect Gov. Walter Kohler. Sen. McCarthy has made no campaign appearances in his home state.

Two Patrol Planes Lost Off Virginia

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Two antisubmarine patrol planes from the Norfolk Naval Air Station were reported missing early today some 20 miles off the Virginia coast. They carried combined crews of six.

Coast Guard and Navy air-sea rescue teams were sent into the area.

The naval air station said the two propeller-driven patrol planes had only enough fuel to last until midnight Tuesday night. They had been due to return from patrol at 10 p.m. No radio distress signals had been heard at any time.

Adlai Critical Of Republican Campaign Acts

NEW YORK (P)—Adlai E. Stevenson says the Eisenhower administration has demonstrated "mismanagement amounting to genius" abroad and "vigorous consistency in transferring from the many to the few" at home.

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate also says the Republicans are waging a nationwide campaign based on "communism, character assassination, slurs and slanders."

"But if Thomas Jefferson escapes without being charged with burglary of treachery it will be a wonder."

Stevenson said Vice President Nixon and New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey are primarily responsible for the type of campaign being conducted by the Republicans, and he added:

"I think I speak for all Democrats when I say of this method:

We don't like it. We don't want it and we don't need it.

"So I say that abusiveness and the corruption of our political coinage is a reason why the Republicans will be defeated this fall.

There is no reason and no excuse to so poison the wells of the people's judgment that their representatives cannot draw from those wells. There is no right to sacrifice on the altar of political ambition that basic harmony between Americans which is essential, once the election is over, to the accomplishment of the business of democratic government."

LOS ANGELES (P)—An actress who says Roy Rogers' horse Trigger kicked her has sued the cowboy actor for $188,000.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTIONS 6, 7 AND 8 OF ARTICLE IV

(Legislative Apportionment Amendment)
Explanation of Amendment

This amendment would direct the General Assembly to redistrict the State for the purpose of electing one Senator from each of 58 senatorial districts and three Representatives from each of 59 representative districts.

As concerns the Senate, area would be the "prime consideration" in the formation of the 58 districts. Downstate would be entitled to 31 districts and Cook county to 24 districts, 18 of them in Chicago and six in the county outside Chicago.

As concerns the House of Representatives the 59 districts would be based upon equal population as nearly as practical, except that in the redistricting prior to the 1960 census, downstate would be entitled to 29 districts and Cook county to 30 districts, 23 of them in Chicago and seven in the county outside Chicago. The three Representatives from each district would be elected by cumulative voting as at present.

Should the General Assembly fail to redistrict as directed, this duty would fall on a commission appointed by the Governor. The State central committees of the two major parties would each submit a list of 10 nominees to the Governor, who would appoint five from each list, making a 10 member commission. Should the commission fail to redistrict, Senators coming up at the next election and all Representatives would be elected from the State at large. If the resulting General Assembly still failed to redistrict, a new commission would be appointed, as before and should this second commission fail to redistrict, legislators would again be elected at large—and so forth until a valid redistricting is secured.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTIONS 1, 2 and 3 OF ARTICLE V

(State Treasurer Amendment)
Explanation of Amendment

This amendment changes the term of office of the State Treasurer from two years to four years. The Treasurer will remain ineligible to succeed himself in office.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE SEPARATE SECTION OF THE CONSTITUTION PERTAINING TO CANALS AND WATERWAYS

(Illinois and Michigan Canal Amendment)
Explanation of Amendment

This amendment would eliminate.

1. The present requirement that the Illinois and Michigan canal or other canal or waterway may be sold or leased only with specific approval of a majority of the voters participating in a general State election; and
2. the provision under which the Illinois deep waterway was financed and constructed.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

When you have parked your car, especially in a business district or along any other heavily traveled street, always get out of it on the right hand side.

It is a little more inconvenient and it takes a little more time to slide across the seat to the door on that side, particularly at this time of the year when you are wearing more and heavier clothes than in the summer, but it could spare you some very painful injuries and possibly save your life.

When you step out of a car on the left side on a crowded city street, you are standing in a traffic lane. Other cars must swerve to avoid hitting you, and in doing that they may have to move into the lane for traffic moving the opposite direction. You could be the cause of a head-on collision.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Sparkman Hurt

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) suffered a cut on his right leg Monday night as an automobile skidded from a rain-swept road a mile north of Evansville and toppled over on one side.

Mergers Eyed by U.S. Government Does Public Gain, Lose By Joining Giant Firms?

NEW YORK (AP)—Mergers which spotlighted business this year and captured the attention of stock traders are coming under close government scrutiny. The aim of the study is to see whether the public gains or loses by them.

Leaders of big business argue that the public is the gainer. They say that competition between large corporations is keener because they have the brawn with which to fight harder and must fight hard or else fall of their own weight. They contend that making a bigger corporation out of two or more small, weaker ones results in more competition and that the public gains thereby.

The Other Side

The argument on the other side is that when a few big corporations dominate an industry, the little fellows die off one by one. And the public has very little choice when it goes out to buy products or services.

Since World War II more than 7,000 mergers or other forms of one company acquiring another's business have been recorded. This year has seen a spate of big ones.

The Federal Trade Commission says it is studying 209 of these business realignments, chiefly in the field of autos, metals, chemicals, baking, dairy, paper and textiles.

The Justice Department has 28 merger plans before it, submitted by companies seeking its approval.

Disapproves Merger

It has disapproved the proposed merger of Bethlehem Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube and warns that if the companies go ahead with their plans anyway, it will bring an antitrust suit in the courts.

Disapproval is based on Section

7 of the Clayton Act, as amended in 1950, which prohibits acquisition by one concern of the physical assets of another if the effect would be to lessen competition substantially or to tend to create a monopoly.

The steel companies insist their proposed merger would do no such thing, and, in fact, would actually give U. S. Steel, the giant in the industry, more competition.

TVA Assets Grow

KNOXVILLE (AP)—The Tennessee Valley Authority said its total assets at the close of the 1954 fiscal year were $1,949,976,444, an increase during the year of $205,188,042.

U. S: Reports Reds Hold Atomic Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in over a year, the U.S. government has reported Russian atomic test blasts, thus confirming a Soviet announcement last month.

The Atomic Energy Commission issued a bare-boned statement Tuesday night telling of "a series of detonations of nuclear explosives in Soviet territory" starting in mid-September and "continuing at intervals to the present."

The use of the term "series of detonations" suggested to some observers the possibility that the Soviets may be developing a "family" of nuclear weapons, possibly including artillery shells.

Otherwise, the AEC statement shed little light. It gave no inkling as to whether the Russians had set off atomic or hydrogen devices.

It did say, "these tests have resulted in some widespread fall-out of radioactive material, but insignificantly in the United States." The commission did not say where in this country this fall-out was detected.

AEC said nothing about how it found out for itself about the Russian tests, but the reference to the nuclear fall-out may in itself be a hint.

Wisconsin Dairymen Rap Benson

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin dairymen, meeting in conventions that may spread their shadows over next Tuesday's elections, voted Tuesday on resolutions demanding the resignation of Agricultural Secretary Benson.

The Wisconsin Pure Milk Products Co-operative, ordinarily a conservative supporter of Republican policies, flatly told Benson to change his attitude toward the dairy farmer or resign, but on the counsel of its president, amended its resolution to eliminate the demand for his resignation. The co-operative carries the weight of the nation's largest organization of milk shippers.

The Wisconsin Farmers' Union, in a separate convention at Madison without a dissenting vote, gave approval to a resolution calling for Benson's resignation. The union, a league of state farmers, has long been critical of the administration farm, and dairy program in particular. The 300 delegates, without a word of defense for the program, declared "the actions of the secretary, through his experimenting, have been contrary to the best interest of agriculture and the nation."
